

VOLUNTEER MINISTRY QUALIFICATIONS

Commitment to Christ

Spiritual development is at the core of the philosophy of Olympia Union Gospel Mission, therefore a volunteer must have a personal, growing relationship with Jesus Christ.

Commitment to a Balanced Christian Lifestyle

A volunteer must be committed to living a balanced Christian lifestyle which includes maturity, emotional stability, financial responsibility, relationships that adhere to the historic orthodox Christian view of sexuality and marriage, and a stable living situation.

Commitment to the Local Church

For spiritual growth, a volunteer must be a part of a body of believers that can provide support and encouragement, with accountability. A positive reference from that church's pastor is required. Involvement with the Mission's volunteer network may provide spiritual growth and fellowship, but in no way should be seen as a substitute for commitment to a local church.

Commitment to Olympia Union Gospel Mission

A volunteer must agree to the Mission's Statement of Faith, Mission Statement, Goals and Objectives, and Values Statement.

Commitment to Work with Others from Different Christian Traditions

The Mission draws its support from people in many different churches; therefore, a volunteer must be able to work with Christians from different denominations.

Commitment to Teamwork

A volunteer must work to build and contribute to teamwork in the unity of Christ, with the goal of making the whole organization successful. The volunteer must have a positive, problem-solving and cooperative attitude.

Commitment to Cooperate with Supervision

A volunteer must be willing to cooperate with the direct supervisor in any assigned ministry area.

Commitment to Training & Special Qualifications

A volunteer must meet any specialized qualifications particular to a specific ministry position, in addition to attending required introductory volunteer training.
